SECTION 1

FINANCIAL SERVICES GUIDE

What other information should you consider before deciding whether to proceed with our recommendations?

If you receive personal financial advice this will be documented in a Statement of Advice (SoA), or in specific circumstances a Record of Advice (RoA), that confirms the discussions you have had with us, the recommendations we are making and the basis for those recommendations. These documents will also explain how those recommendations will work towards achieving your goals, any relevant fees received by us, and any associations with financial product providers.

When a financial product is recommended to you, you will be provided with a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) or other disclosure document issued by the product provider. Among other things, the PDS contains information about the risks, benefits, features and fees payable in respect of the product. In combination, these documents will help you make an informed decision about whether to proceed with our recommendations.

If you are part of our ongoing service program, from 1/7/21, where a client has an ongoing fee arrangement that exceeds 12 months, we will provide you with an Enhanced Fee Disclosure Statement (FDS), this will include the services you were entitled to receive, the services you actually received and the fees that you paid for the previous 12 months. It will also include the services you are entitled to receive and the fee for those services in the next 12 months.

We will require you to consent to an ongoing fee arrangement annually. You can consent in a number of ways, however for most clients we expect they will simply sign the enhanced fee disclosure document and return it to our office via email or post.

Who provides the financial services described in the FSG?

The financial services described in this FSG are provided by Authorised Representatives of Advice Links.

Part 2 of the document contains details of your financial adviser, their experience, qualifications and professional memberships.

Who is responsible for those financial services?

In relation to the financial services offered in this FSG, Advice Links, as the holder of an AFSL, does not act on behalf of any other person or licensee. Advice Links is only responsible for the services offered in the FSG and has authorised the distribution of this FSG.

The law requires Advice Links to have arrangements in place to compensate certain persons for loss or damage they suffer from certain breaches of the Corporations Act by Advice Links and/or its Authorised Representatives. Advice Links holds professional indemnity insurances that satisfy these requirements.

How do we ensure that the advice we give you suits your needs and objectives?

To ensure that we provide advice that is suitable to your needs and financial circumstances, we firstly need to understand your financial situation, personal financial objectives and needs. We will follow a step by step process as outlined below:

1. We will meet with you for an initial consultation. During this meeting we will discuss your expectations and provide you with details of the services that we can offer.
2. We will collect all of the information that we need from you, including your personal financial situation, financial objectives and needs. If you do not wish to provide the information we require, we will advise you about the possible consequences of not having disclosed your full personal information and the impact on the recommendations given. This may include not being able to provide advice on the subject matter that you request.
3. We will help you identify your goals and discuss your attitude towards investment risk.
4. We will consider strategies and areas such as income, social security, risk management, investment and estate planning requirements. Where required we will also conduct a reasonable investigation of the financial products that may be suitable to implement the strategies as part of the recommendations. Based on these considerations and others, we will prepare and present you with a written SoA, or in some cases depending on the circumstances an RoA.
5. We will discuss our recommendations with you, make any changes you require and gain your agreement to implement those recommendations. We will then implement those recommendations.
6. We will periodically meet with you to review your financial circumstances if you have agreed to an ongoing service arrangement which includes a regular review component. If an ongoing service arrangement is entered into, this will be documented in your SoA. Where you have entered into an ongoing service fee arrangement after 1 July 2013, your adviser will renew their agreement with you at least every two years.

We will also explain to you any significant risks of the financial products and strategies which we recommend to you. If you are unclear of the risks, do not hesitate to question us further.

What products are available?

A range of financial products by many leading financial product providers are available for recommendation by us. Details of the available products that we can recommend are contained in the Approved Products List (APL).

External experts provide financial product research, which is used to carefully select and maintain an extensive list of Approved Products for us to select from. We conduct due diligence on external research report providers that provide us with research.

We will only recommend a product or service to you after considering its appropriateness to your individual objectives, financial situation and needs. The recommendations will be made after conducting an investigation into the financial products and services and may require us to investigate and consider a financial product which is not on the APL.

What documents do you get if we provide further advice?

Where a further review is conducted, and personal advice is provided, in some circumstances we are not required to provide you with an SoA for this further advice. Where this is the case, if you have not already been provided with an RoA, you may request a copy of the RoA from us by contacting us (on any of the contact details set out in Part 2 of this Guide) for a period of seven years from when the further advice was first provided to you. In all other circumstances we will provide you with an SoA.

From 1 July 2021, where a client has an ongoing fee arrangement that exceeds 12 months, we will provide you with an Enhanced FDS, this will include the services you were entitled to receive, the services you actually received and the fees you paid for the previous 12 months plus the services you are entitled to receive and the fees you can expect to pay for the next 12 months.

We will require you to renew your consent of the ongoing fee arrangement every 12 months. You can renew a number of ways that allow us to prove consent, however for most clients we expect they will simply sign the enhanced disclosure document and return it to our office via email or post.

How can you instruct us?

You may specify how you would like to give us instructions, for example, by phone, mail or email using any of the contact details set out in Part 2 of this document. Alternatively, you may provide instructions to us in person. Where instructions are provided by telephone, these must be confirmed in writing.

How are we paid for our services?

We and Advice Links may receive:

- Fees paid by clients;
- Commissions paid by product providers;
- Other payments by product providers; and
- Other benefits.

All fees and commissions are payable to Advice Links. We may receive up to 100% of any fees and commissions received.

Details of any fees, commissions or other benefits that we, Advice Links or other associated persons are entitled to receive if you implement our recommendations in relation to a specific financial product, will be disclosed to you in your SoA or RoA when personal advice is given. Details of the fees, commissions or other benefits will only be disclosed if they are reasonably capable of influencing us in providing the advice. This disclosure will be in dollar terms, or where this is not possible, in percentage terms.

What types of fees, commissions, payments and other benefits do we receive for our services?

Service fees

We will discuss and agree our fee structure with you before we provide you with services. The type of fees you can be charged are listed below. You may be charged a combination, or part of, any of these fees.

Fees for Advice

We may charge fees for the preparation, presentation and implementation of our advice. These fees will be based on your individual circumstances, the complexity involved in your situation and the time it takes to prepare personal financial advice for you. We will discuss these fees with you and gain your agreement on the fees before we provide you with the advice.

Ongoing Advice Fees

We may charge a fee to provide ongoing portfolio reviews and/or the provision of ongoing services. This fee will be agreed with you and is either a set amount, or an amount based on the amount of funds under our advice, and/or the time involved in reviewing your portfolio and circumstances.

Payment Methods

Our fees are either invoiced to you directly, or deducted from your investments, or a combination of these methods. Where it is debited from your investments it is normally referred to as the Adviser Service Fee. In most instances you will be able to select the method of payment that suits you best. We will discuss and agree the method of payment with you before we provide you with services.

Life Insurance Products

Initial and ongoing commissions from insurance providers may be received by Advice Links. These commissions are paid to Advice Links by the company that issues the product that our Advisers recommend to you and they are included in what you pay for the product. The commissions vary and are based on the policy cost, which is the sum of the premiums you pay and may include other fees related to the product.

The initial commission is paid in the first year by the product issuer to Advice Links. Ongoing commissions are payments paid by product issuers to Advice Links in the years after the first year. If received, these commissions are passed on to 'the adviser'.

If you initiate an increase to your cover, Advice Links may receive initial and ongoing commissions on the increase to your policy cost. The ongoing commission on a client initiated increase is only paid in respect of the period that starts from the first anniversary of the increase.

If the initial commission is equal to the ongoing commissions (as a percentage of your policy cost), Advice Links may receive up to 20% (excl. GST) of your annual policy cost. If the initial commission is higher than the ongoing commissions, the maximum commission that Advice Links may receive is set out in the table below.

Revenue options	Initial commission (% of annual policy cost or increase incl. GST)	Ongoing commission p.a. (% of annual policy cost or increase incl. GST)
Upfront commission option	66%	22%
Level commission option	33%	33%

Note: all commissions received by Advice Links will be passed to your Adviser.

You'll find details of how your insurance policy cost is calculated in the relevant PDS that we provide you. Where personal advice is provided to you, you'll also find details of the commission that Advice Links receive, which is then passed onto your Adviser, if you decide to purchase a life insurance product, in your SoA or RoA.

Other benefits

From time to time we may accept alternative forms of remuneration from product providers or other parties, such as hospitality or support connected with our professional development (e.g. training or sponsorship to attend conferences). We maintain a register detailing any benefit that we receive which is valued at between $100 and $300 and other benefits that relate to information technology software or support provided by a product issuer or that relate to educational and training purposes.
